The role of school psychologists is diverse. School psychologists may help deliver mental health services as well as academic support. These individuals may also help to assess students to determine what learning barriers they face and how best to address those barriers.

I 1850

The theme of this year’s National School Psychology Week is “today is a good day to shine.” This theme focuses on highlighting the positive work school psychologists do to promote students’ academic and personal success. We recognize National School Psychology Week to show our support for the efforts school psychologists make to create a healthy, safe, and positive learning environment. I stand in support of this resolution.

Mr. JOHNSON of Georgia. Mr. Speaker, I rise today in support of H. Res. 1645, designating the week of November 8th as National School Psychology Week. I introduced this Resolution in support of National School Psychology Week because, were it not for caring adults in my school and my community, I would not be where I am today. I know from my own childhood how circumstances outside school can affect a student’s performance in the classroom, so I believe it is extremely important that our schools have professionals trained to meet students’ nonacademic needs.

School psychologists perform a myriad of functions within schools. They work with students to improve social, emotional, and behavioral problems that may affect their ability to succeed in school, assess barriers to learning, and design and implement behavioral interventions that help teachers create positive classroom environments.

That is why I would like to take this opportunity to honor and recognize the professionals and former colleagues for our children and grandchildren in schools across the country. Your efforts on behalf of our nation’s students are appreciated.

Mr. JOHNSON of Georgia. Mr. Speaker, I rise today in support of the actions of the House of Representatives in honoring and recognizing the contributions of school psychologists by designating the week of November 8, 2010 as National School Psychology Week. I proudly support H. Res. 1645 and urge my colleagues to support this important piece of legislation.

During the week of November 8, 2010, we will celebrate the critical role that school psychologists have in our nation’s education system. It is imperative that our nation’s children receive the best education. While it is essential that our children take reading, writing, and arithmetic, a complete education includes proper social, emotional, and mental development. School psychologists ensure that our nation’s children are receiving the mental health and psychological development they need to prosper in this world. School psychologists work with teachers, coaches, and guidance counselors to educate the whole child. School psychologists play a vital role in the lives of our nation’s children as they are often the first and only mental health professionals with which our children come in contact.

School psychologists are highly trained individuals that work directly with students, teachers, and families to form collaborations that meet the educational needs of our children. The National Association of School Psychologists establishes and maintains high standards for training, practice, and school psychologist credentialing. School psychologists play a special role in promoting child development, motivating students, and recognizing school psychologists and the vital role they have in educating our children.

I join the Chairman in urging my colleagues to support this resolution.

Mr. CASSIDY. I yield back the balance of my time.

Ms. HIRONO. Mr. Speaker, in closing, I would once again urge my colleagues to support House Resolution 1645. It takes many people to enable a child to succeed, and school psychologists are definitely among those.

I yield back the balance of my time.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The question is on the motion offered by the gentlewoman from Hawaii (Ms. HIRONO) that the House suspend the rules and agree to the resolution, H. Res. 1645.

The question was taken; and (two-thirds being in the affirmative) the rules were suspended and the resolution was agreed to.

A motion to reconsider was laid on the table.

AMERICAN MANUFACTURING EFFICIENCY AND RETRAINING INVESTMENT COLLABORATION ACHIEVEMENT WORKS ACT

Ms. HIRONO. Mr. Speaker, I move to suspend the rules and pass the bill (H. R. 4072) to require that certain Federal job training and career education programs give priority to programs that provide national industry-recognized and portable credential, as amended.

The Clerk read the title of the bill.

The text of the bill is as follows:

H. R. 4072
